

{audio}files/preroll.mp3;files/News_Audio/2012/sgrtlancaster061812.mp3{/audio}

Former NC Community College President Martin Lancaster tells host Barlow Herget that for-profit colleges feed off federal money. The schools are not cheap with tuition as much as $48,000 and students, even if they default, are still stuck with the loan while colleges get their money up front.