RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - President Obama's push to enact more gun restrictions through executive action, not congressional approval, is outlined in a new fact sheet posted to the White House website.

The posting lists multiple goals:

- Keep guns out of the wrong hands through background checks.
- Make our communities safer from gun violence
- Increase mental health treatment and reporting to the background check system
- Shape the future of gun safety technology.

The fact sheet can be found at whitehouse.gov.

The president is expected to issue the executive order Tuesday.
