RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - Roundtable discussions dedicated to explaining the transportation and infrastructure bond proposals made by Gov. Pat McCrory will take place in Forsyth, Surry, and Yadkin counties Thursday.

The governor will be joined by Budget Director Lee Roberts and Transportation Secretary Tony Tata.

The first event will be held at 11 a.m. at Winston-Salem State University

The second event will take place at Pilot Mountain State Park. Department of Environment and Natural Resources Director Donald van der Vaart and Cultural Resources Secretary Susan Kluttz will be on hand as well.

The second event begins at 2 p.m. with a tour of the park.

Both events are open to credentialed press.
