

Four Cities Seeking Candidates For Police Chief

By Administrator

Monday, 11 January 2016 07:10 -

RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - Public safety professionals have at least six opportunities in North Carolina to lead a municipal police department, according to postings on the website of the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

Salisbury, Morrisville, Durham, and Boiling Springs are all seeking candidates.

Several cities are also seeking police officers.

Details can be found at nclm.org.