

Help Wanted: Vance County Reopens Recruitment For County Manager

By Administrator

Thursday, 11 February 2016 06:45 -

RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - Public management professionals with at least three years experience as a county manager are invited to apply for the position of Vance County Manager.

A job posting appears on the website of the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

"We are re-opening our search for a county manager to perform complex executive work planning, directing & coordinating the overall operation of the County; ensuring proper operations; staffing & budgeting; advising & assisting the Commissioners on operations & governance; and related work as apparent or assigned. Technical knowledge of the governing process of federal, state, & local levels required," reads the posting.

Applications will be accepted until March 3.

Details on requirements and duties can be found at nclm.org and vancecounty.org.