

Three Industry Experts To Join N.C. Board Of Funeral Services

By Administrator

Monday, 02 June 2014 16:23 - Last Updated Monday, 02 June 2014 16:24

RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - The board that regulates the practice of funeral services in North Carolina will welcome three new members.

The new members of the Board of Funeral Services will serve three-year terms. They are:

- Alamance County's Kenneth Stainback, who is a funeral director with McClure Funeral Services. He has previously served on the board and has been reappointed.

- Mecklenburg County's Elizabeth Williams-Smith. She is a manager of Kannapolis Mortuary.

- Charles Graves of Buncombe County, a funeral director with Groce Funeral Home.