North Carolina House Republicans have selected Tim Moore of Cleveland County to serve another two years as Speaker of the House. The full House still has to the vote on Moore when it reconvenes in January but Moore's selection by the Republican majority assure his election to the House's top leadership position.

Rep. Sarah Stevens,
R-Surry
, will serve as speaker pro
tem succeeding Paul Stam
of Wake County who retired from the legislature and did not seek re-election.

Rep. John Bell of Wayne County will serve as majority leader.

Other leadership posts filled by the Republicans are:

Rep. Steven Ross of Alamance
County, Deputy Majority Leader

Rep. John
Szoka
of Cumberland County, Conference Chair

Rep. Jon
Hardister
of Guilford County, Majority Whip
