

Cooper Names Three Top Aides

By Administrator
Wednesday, 07 December 2016 16:41 -

Governor-elect Roy Cooper named three top aides for his new administration. Kristi Jones will be Cooper's chief of staff. Jones has been his chief of staff at the attorney general's office.

Brad Adcock will serve as Cooper's legislative director. He has extensive years as a lobbyist. His past clients include Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina. He also served on the UNC Board of Governors.

Ken Eudy will be Cooper's senior advisor. He's a former political reporter.

Eudy and Jones were already serving as the leaders of the Cooper transition team.