

Progressive Environmental Group's Ad Campaign Targets Sen. Richard Burr

By Administrator

Friday, 31 July 2015 05:51 -

RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - Convention wisdom says he will easily win re-election, but that doesn't mean progressives are ignoring Sen. Richard Burr's re-election campaign.

The League of Conservation Voters is airing two ads about EPA regulations on coal-burning power plants that accuse the senator of supporting "unlimited carbon pollution."

The Associated Press reports the ad campaign will run three weeks.