

Gender and Racial Makeup Of North Carolina's Registered Voters

By Administrator
Friday, 08 January 2016 06:24 -

RALEIGH, SGRToday.com) - Women dominate the pool of registered voters in North Carolina, making up 54 percent of the registrations. Forty-five percent are male, and 1 percent is listed as "not specified."

The data comes from the state Board of Election.

The racial makeup of the voter pool is:

- 71 percent white
- 22 percent African-American
- 6 percent Multi-racial/other
- 1 percent American Indian/Alaska Native

Democrats account for 41 percent of registrations, Republicans have 30 percent, Unaffiliated hold 28 percent, and Libertarians account for .4 percent.

Full data can be found at ncsbe.gov.