

Rob Foss, a motorcycle rider at the UNC Highway Safety Center, tells host Barlow Herget that if the legislature repeals the state's successful helmet law for motorcyclists, the facts show more cyclists will die in North Carolina and medical costs will increase by millions of dollars.

{audio}files/preroll.mp3;files/Shows/2013/Barlow Exclusive/sgrthelmet@032513.mp3{/audio}